

BIBLE FOOTBALL

Prepare on a blackboard, or large piece of paper, a football field complete with yard line markers. Divide your group into two teams, with only two contestants competing with each other at a time. Play begins at mid-field. A question is asked, and whichever contestant comes up with the answer gains ten yards for his team. Make a mark on the playing field to show how far that team has advanced the ball. Wrong answers are minus 5 yards. Suppose, for example, that the Panthers are playing the Antelopes. As the game gets underway, the Panthers get the ball and succeed in answering three questions. This moves them to the twenty yard line. On the next play, however, the Antelopes come up with the correct answer. This then moves the ball back to the thirty yard line. If the Antelopes are successful on the next three tries, they succeed in bringing the ball all the way back to mid-field. If you want to make this even more interesting, allow additional yardage for very difficult questions. Call the question a pass-play perhaps. When one team scores a goal, give a difficult question for the “extra point,” which can be answered by any member of the team.

BIBLE TRIVIA

Arrange Bible Trivia questions in 5 categories, ranging from very easy to very hard. Score correct answers as follows:

Very easy = 100 points

Easy = 200 points

Average = 300 points

Hard = 400 points

Very hard = 500 points

Play for a set time limit and the team with the most points wins.

Variation: Allow teams to select the subject of their question, such as : cities, people, trees, animals, miracles, etc.

TWENTY BIBLICAL QUESTIONS

Ten or more can play this game. Send one person out of the room. Then the group decides on something from the Bible, such as the slingshot that David used, the ark that Noah built, the golden calf, the jawbone used by Samson, etc. Or they can pick some place, such as Ur, or Bethel, or the lion’s den in which Daniel was placed. Or some person, such as Abraham, Moses, Deborah, Sarah, David, Solomon, Mark, Peter, or Timothy. Or they can choose some event, such as the Flood, the crossing of the Red Sea, or Pentecost. The guesser is called back. He tries to guess what the group has in mind by asking questions that can be answered by “yes” or “no.” He is allowed a maximum of twenty questions. He probably begins by asking, “Is it in the Old Testament?” If the answer is “yes,” he may ask, “Is it a person?” or “Is it an event?” or “Is it a place?” or “Is it a thing?” Having discovered that it is a thing, the line of questioning may try to locate the period in Old Testament history: “Was it connected with the story of Moses?” “No.” “David?” “Yes.” “Was it his harp?” “No.” “His slingshot?” “Yes.”

SWORD DRILL

Players compete to see who can look up Bible references and read them first.

ELIMINATION SWORD DRILL

Two teams. Whoever finds the verse first eliminates one player off the other team. Game continues until one team is completely eliminated.

ITEM SWORD DRILL

Divide the crowd into two teams (e.g.: girls vs. boys).

Using their Bibles, everyone in the crowd searches for the item named.

Upon locating a verse containing the item named, individuals stand up and read the verse.

The first person to correctly locate and read a verse gains a point for their team. (Limit each team member to a maximum number of points.)

Suggested Items To Locate:

rain	tree (s)	child (ren)
trumpet (s)	confidence	pen
cloud (s)	tongue (s)	king (s)
fire	wind	spirit
water	evil	light
Passover	bedchamber	ox (en)
fly (ies)	horse (s)

BIBLE BOOK GUESS

Divide crowd into two teams (e.g.: girls vs. guys).

A moderator chooses a verse to read from anywhere in the Bible (or has a predetermined list to choose from). Taking turns to guess, each group must determine where in the Bible that verse is located (book name).

Variations:

- Play like 20 questions with each team asking 1 question to narrow the possibilities and 1 “guess” question.
 - For more knowledgeable crowds, make teams narrow the answer to the actual chapter in the book.
 - For more knowledgeable crowds, read only a phrase of the verse rather than an entire verse.

BIBLE TIC-TAC-TOE

GUYS vs. GIRLS. Whichever team answers Bible question correctly wins the square. If the team is wrong, the other team wins that square. Girls get first question, guys second, and so on.

BIBLE SEARCH

In a concordance, find several objects. Give number clues for the objects as the following example: O.T.: 4-13-26-43. [O.T. stands for Old Testament; the 4 stands for the fourth book in the O.T.; the 13 stands for the thirteenth chapter in that book; the 26 stands for the verse in that chapter and the 43 stands for the forty-third word in that verse (which was the word, "fruit).] Give each team a copy of the same list and about 12 or 15 things to find.

BIBLE FEUD

Take a survey of some of the adults in your church or use the survey results printed below. The object is to rank the 4 most common answers from most often mentioned, then 2nd most often mentioned, etc. Play for games instead of points. Select 2 teams who each send a player to the front. The first question is asked. The player giving the most common response has the option of playing the game or passing it to the other team. The team that plays must name all 4 most common responses without making 3 mistakes. If they do, they win that round. If they don't, the other team has a chance to win if they can name any correct response that the other team did not mention. They must name it on their first guess without missing.

Survey questions and most common answers:

1. Name a disciple: Peter, Matthew, Bartholomew, Andrew
 2. Name one of the 10 commandments: "Thou shalt not steal," "Thou shalt not kill," "Honour thy father and mother," "Thou shalt not bear false witness."
